1. Introduction

The Sandcastle Trust is a charity that works to reduce inequalities in emotional health and wellbeing outcomes for families living with a rare genetic condition. Our services help to build positive family memories, strengthen family relationships, reduce isolation and improve resilience. We also increase public awareness of the inequalities and barriers to emotional health and wellbeing that families living with rare genetic conditions face and affect positive change through our work.

The Sandcastle Trust recognises the importance of its support services to families, children, young people and adults living with a rare genetic condition and its responsibilities to safeguard and promote the welfare of those who are vulnerable or at risk.

2. Purpose and Scope

The Sandcastle Trust is committed to practices that protect children [1] and vulnerable adults [2] from harm and this Safeguarding Policy [3] outlines how The Sandcastle Trust deals with child and vulnerable adult protection issues and is intended to safeguard the children and vulnerable adults who come into contact with The Sandcastle Trust.

Charity Trustees are responsible [4] for ensuring that those benefiting from or working with their charity are not harmed in any way through contact with it.

This policy has been approved and endorsed by the Board of Trustees. An audit of safeguarding concerns, action taken and staff training and support will be conducted annually and safeguarding policy and procedures will be reviewed annually or in the light of significant changes to best practice or legislation.

This policy applies to all Sandcastle Trust board members, staff members, suppliers, contractors, freelancers and volunteers. We expect partner organisations to share our commitment to safeguarding and to have their own equivalent policy; where they do not then this policy will apply.

ANNEX 1

GUIDANCE: RECOGNISING ABUSE

Types of Abuse

1. Children

Physical abuse: hurting or injuring a child, such as hitting, slapping, shaking, scalding, or suffocating. Physical abuse also includes giving a child harmful substances, such as drugs, alcohol or poison,

Sexual abuse: involves forcing or enticing a child to take part in sexual activities. It does not necessarily involve violence and the child may or may not be aware of what is happening. Sexual abuse includes grooming a child with the intention of sexually abusing them : all forms of penetrative and non-penetrative sex; the making, looking at and distributing indecent images of a child. Sexual exploitation is part of sexual abuse and involves the commercial sexual exploitation of children (in transactional sex) or manipulation or enticement of children to engage in sexual activities in return for gifts, money, food, affection or favour. It is a form of abuse which is often misunderstood by victims and outsiders as consensual. A child/family may believe it is a loving/consensual relationship but no child under the age of 18 can ever consent to being abused or exploited.

Emotional abuse: is persistent over time and can include verbally abusing a child, rejecting a child, humiliating them, making them feel worthless, inadequate or frightened. It also includes seeing or hearing abuse of others e. g. witnessing domestic violence is regarded as a form of emotional abuse. Some form of emotional abuse is part of any maltreatment but it may occur alone.

Neglect: the persistent lack of appropriate care of children, including love, stimulation, safety, nourishment, warmth, education, and/or medical attention. It is failing to ensure a child is protected from physical or emotional harm and danger.

2. Adults

Physical abuse: unexplained falls or major injuries, injury/bruises at different stages of healing, bruising in unusual sites, e.g. inner arms, abrasions, teeth indentations, injuries to head or face, very passive.

Psychological abuse: withdrawal, depression, cowering and fearfulness, agitation, confusion, changes in behaviour, obsequious willingness to please, no self-esteem, fear, anger.

Domestic abuse: bruises, black eyes, painful limbs, make up covering bruises, damaged clothes or accessories, patient “walking on eggshells” if partner around, partner belittling or putting down, partner acting excessively jealously or possessively, limited access to money, phone, car etc.

Awareness and Indicators of Abuse

There are various ways in which you may become aware of, or have concerns about actual or potential abuse of a child or vulnerable adult.

- a) A child or vulnerable adult may tell you.
- b) Someone else may tell you.
- c) A child or vulnerable shows signs of physical injury for which there appears to be no satisfactory explanation or injuries happen repeatedly. Regular unkempt appearance, loss of weight for no apparent reason.
- d) A child or vulnerable adult's behaviour may indicate to you that he or she is being harmed or abused. For example, nervous, mistrustful or fearful of others perhaps reluctant to be with certain people or places; sudden behaviour changes; noticeable aggressive withdrawn from social group or inability to make friends; lack of confidence hinting at secrets.
- e) Use of sexual explicit language or sexualised behaviour/games towards others.
- f) Something in the way that another person relates to a children or vulnerable adults concerns you. This could include:
 - Inappropriate petting or fondling.
 - Inappropriate physical contact
 - Sexually explicit behaviour
